Dear Mr Shaw

Thank you for taking the time to write to me.

The Opposition I lead will be an alternative, not an echo. I want us to be a fair dinkum Opposition, determined to scrutinize the government and to hold it to account. I also want our policies to demonstrate that we are a credible alternative government.

The Coalition is currently finalising its policies in anticipation of the upcoming election and is taking into account the views that are put to us. I have noted your comments and thank you for making the effort to share them with me.

I would encourage you to remain engaged with my office over the coming months via my internet comment form, available on my website <http://www.tonyabbott.com.au/>. This is also where you can sign up to receive my e-news updates.

Yours sincerely

TONY ABBOTT

You are now formally accused of Treason in addition to the concealment of such Treason, the accusation will now go directly to the Full Court of the Supreme Court of Victoria for a Grand Jury hearing relating to and involving the obtaining of the indictment required by Electors, not Judiciary, to place you on trail

Victorian Supreme Court (1889) (6 Judges)

[Byrne v Armstrong (1899) 25 VLR 126 at 132]

“It is provided now that all the prosecutions shall be by presentment, but preserving the prerogative of the Crown through the Attorney General to proceed by information, except in case of ‘treason’ which has to be by indictment. Now indictment means by Grand Jury and therefore, inasmuch as the statute provides that Treason shall be tried by indictment only. That means that it must be by Grand Jury and no other means is provided for bringing it before a Grand Jury.” The finding of the Attorney General is equivalent to the finds of the Grand Jury, but in the case of Treason it must be the finding of the Grand Jury.”

The High Court Appeal

The Appeal to the High Court from the Western Australian Supreme Court relating to the vexatious writ was lodged in time at the High Court Office of Registry located at the Federal Court of Australia WA, but, the Registrar of the High Court Canberra, Carolyn Rodgers by letter stated that the Appeal is considered abandoned because the original document was not included in the filed documents. In due course Carolyn Rodgers will be charged with the concealment of Treason, such offence carries a life imprisonment sentence

The Conclusion in this Notice

You are now formally accused of Treason by this Written Notice. Under the Constitution you must stand down. You are incapable of sitting. And under law

The West Australian Discontent: Is Secession Possible?

Introduction

Like the rumblings of a distant storm-centre there have been heard, several times since the establishment of the Australian Commonwealth, suggestions made, speeches delivered, and resolutions passed in some of the States in favour of secession and separation. In New South Wales, Queensland, and Western Australia members of the State Parliaments and local agitators have complained of certain actions, or neglect of the Federal Parliament, which they considered inconsistent with State rights and State interest, justifying, in their opinion, resort not merely to protest and remonstrance (well within their province), but to threats of withdrawal from the union. In New South Wales there has been much discontent and grumbling about the delay in the settlement of the Federal Capital, and the continuance of the seat of government in Melbourne. In Queensland a great stir has been made on account of the loss of revenue and the abolition of Kanaka labour in sugar plantations.

The West Australian Grievance

In Western Australia the principal grievance has been the delay of Parliament in sanctioning the survey of the proposed transcontinental railway from Port Augusta to Kalgoorlie. The recent failure of the Senate, by one vote, to pass the Survey Bill, sent up to it by the House of Representatives, appears to have aroused a storm of indignation in the western State. Clamour and demonstration against the Commonwealth has culminated in a resolution being passed by the Legislative Assembly on September 26, affirming that "The union of Western Australia with the other States has proved detrimental to the best interests of the State, and that the time has arrived for placing before the people the question of withdrawal from the union."

Secession Resolution a Nullity

The all-important point to consider is the possible effect of such a resolution, and whether the State Parliament can take action to give effect to it? The clear and unanswerable reply is, that such menaces and fulminations are absolutely useless, and that any movement of the kind is doomed to be abortive, and to cover with ridicule those responsible for such impotent resolutions.

Personally, I favour, and voted for, the Survey Bill, and the great preponderance of members of the House of Representatives supported it. It is not true, therefore, to allege "that unfair treatment has been meted out to Western Australia by the representatives of the majority of the signatories of the Federal compact." The National House of the Commonwealth, voicing the views of the majority of members in the majority of States, has twice passed the Bill, and twice in two successive sessions sent it to the Senate, where it has been twice defeated, or, rather, suspended, by a majority of one. The Chamber which is supposed to represent State rights and interests, and in which Western Australia is represented by as many Senators as Victoria, is responsible for the miscarriage of the Bill; the House in which the whole people of the Commonwealth are proportionally represented, has endeavoured to give effect to the wishes of Western Australia. It seems, therefore, most unfair to blame either the Federal Union or the Federal Government, or the majority of the people's [P.927] House, for what has happened. It is, in fact, outrageous to indulge in such unwarrantable declarations.

An Indestructible Union

Perhaps it would be just as well to shortly explain that Western Australia, like other States, has freely and voluntarily joined the Commonwealth in the full knowledge that it is not a mere compact or partnership, dissolvable at will, like the old Australian Federal Council, but that it is an indissoluble Federal Commonwealth. In the memorable words of one of the judges of the Supreme Court of the United States of America, referring to the nature and character of the American Constitution: "It is an indestructible union, composed of indestructible States."—Chase, C. J., in Texas v. White, 7 Wall., 700. The indissolubility of the Australian bond is clearly and expressly affirmed in the preamble to the Constitution. The words are: "Whereas the people . . . have agreed to unite in one indissoluble Federal Constitution under the Crown, . . . and under the Constitution hereby established." The Constitution was drawn up in Australia, but it was enacted by the Imperial Parliament of Great Britain. No power in Australia can repeal or alter the clauses of the Imperial Act, under which, on September 17, 1900, the late Queen's proclamation was issued, declaring that on and after the first day of January, 1901, the people of New South Wales, Victoria, South Australia, Queensland, Tasmania, and Western Australia should be united into a Federal Constitution, under the name of the Commonwealth of Australia. No amendment of the Constitution, releasing any State from its membership of the Commonwealth, can be made either by the Federal Parliament, or by any State Legislature. New States may be admitted into the family circle of the Commonwealth by the Federal Parliament, but it cannot, if it desired, expel or release any State from the Union. The British Parliament alone could do so, and it is not likely that under any conceivable circumstances would that Parliament, which has called the Commonwealth into existence, be a party to its destruction. It may be interesting to show how the doctrine of secession from a Federal Union originated in the United States of America, and how that doctrine was for ever exploded, amid the ruin and bloodshed of a civil war, which thrilled the world.

American Precedents

The omission from the Constitution of the United States of an express declaration of the permanence and indestructibility of the Union, led to the promulgation of the disastrous doctrines of nullification and secession, which were not finally abandoned until the Civil War of 1862-4 forever terminated the controversy. The Kentucky and Virginia Resolutions, drafted by Jefferson (1798), and adopted by the Legislatures of those States, in protest against the Alien and Sedition Laws passed by the Federal Congress, contained the germ of the fatal and insidious contention that the Union was merely a compact among the States; that the States, severally, had the right to resist any breach of the compact, and to pronounce that a Legislative Act of the Federal Congress in excess of its powers, and encroaching on the rights of the States, was a nullity to be followed, if necessary, by resistance, revolution, and bloodshed.

In October, 1832, a State Convention was held in South Carolina, at which it was declared and ordained by the people of the State that the several Acts of Congress purporting to impose duties on the importation of foreign commodities were unauthorised by the constitution of the United States, and were therefore utterly null and void.

This was the first serious experiment in nullification by any State. The State Legislature of South Carolina followed up the ordinances of the State Convention by passing several Acts intended to give effect to the declaration of nullification, by authorising the citizens of the State to refuse to obey the Federal Law, which had been declared null and void. The President of the Republic, General Jackson, issued a proclamation to the people of South Carolina, requiring them to obey the Federal Law, and he followed up his proclamation by calling out the Federal troops. Hayne, the Governor of the State, responded by mustering and drilling 20,000 volunteers. Jackson is said to have sent a private message to Calhoun threatening that he would hang him higher than Haman, if nullification were not abandoned. An armed conflict between the State and the Union was only averted by a compromise, according to which Congress passed a new tariff law redressing some of the grievances complained of; and the controversy for the time was terminated.

The Logic of War

Calhoun's policy had been successful, and the result encouraged his successors when they put to the test their claim to the right of secession from the Union. The contest was resumed in a more dangerous shape on December 20, 1860, when a convention of the people of South Carolina was held, at which an ordinance of secession was adopted.

This ordinance of secession was followed up by a declaration of independence; which alleged that the Union was dissolved, and that South Carolina had resumed her position amongst the nations of the world as a free, sovereign and independent State. The example of South Carolina was afterwards followed by the States of Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, and Texas. A congress of seceding States was held at Montgomery, Alabama, at which a provisional constitution was adopted, and a provisional Government was formed. The Confederate constitution was in many respects similar to that of the United States. In April, 1861, the provisional Government was called upon to give orders relating to Fort Sumter, a fortification still held by the United States, but situated within the territory of one of the Confederate States; the militia of South Carolina were directed to attack the fort, and the [P.934] Civil War began. Four other States, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Arkansas, then seceded from the Union.

The war was declared ended in August, 1866. Although the Federal constitution was not amended by the insertion of a new clause explicitly stating that the Union was a permanent form of Government, several State constitutions, including those of seven of the rebellious States, were amended by the introduction of provisions expressly repudiating the right of secession. It was at a fearful cost that the principle was thus, once and for all, placed beyond the region of doubt that the United States form a perpetual union of indestructible States.

Canada

The constitution of Canada does not contain any clause declaring the perpetuity or indissolubility of the Dominion. The constitution is embodied in an Imperial Act, and, save with respect to certain matters of detail not affecting the fundamental features of the scheme, it can only be altered by the Imperial Parliament. No general power to amend the constitution has been granted to the Parliament and people of Canada. Consequently, the Dominion is absolutely indissoluble so far as the Parliament and people of Canada are concerned.

The Commonwealth

These considerations explain the circumstances that the Canadian constitution contains no reference to the durability, or otherwise, of the Dominion. They do not account for the fact that, whilst the indissolubility of the Commonwealth is not affirmed by any clause in the Imperial Act, it is recited as an accepted principle in the preamble. Why was it placed in the preamble? The only reason which can be suggested is that the Australian Parliament and people have a general power to amend the constitution, and it may have been considered wise and prudent that, coupled with a right so great and important, there should be a reminder, placed in the fore-front of the deed of political partnership between the federating colonies, that the union, sealed by Imperial Parliamentary sanction, was intended by the contracting parties to be a lasting one, and that no alteration should be suggested or attempted inconsistent with the continuity of the Commonwealth as an integral part of the British Empire.

Maintenance of Commonwealth Unity

I cannot see how any State could withdraw from the Commonwealth without the authority of the Imperial Parliament. By the constitution the Customs and Excise Departments, the Post and Telegraph Departments, with all their vast sources of revenue, are vested in the Commonwealth, and they are manned and administered by Commonwealth officers, the surplus revenue being paid over to the States every month. The Defence Forces also are vested in the Commonwealth. If the Government of Western Australia, or of any recalcitrant State, attempted to take possession of the Customs House, or the Post Office, the Federal militia would be called out to defend Commonwealth property. That would soon put an end to the disturbance. There is a method of obtaining redress of State grievances without resorting to force.

Commentaries on the Constitution of the Australian Commonwealth

Sir Robert Randolph Garran, M.A.

[P.353]

34. "Shall be Binding on the Courts, Judges and People."

Clause 5

5 Operation of the Constitution and laws [see Note 3] of Constitution of the Australian Commonwealth

This Act, and all laws made by the Parliament of the Commonwealth under the Constitution, shall be binding on the courts, judges, and people of every State and of every part of the Commonwealth, notwithstanding anything in the laws of any State;

The importance of these words, as indicating one of the fundamental principles of the Constitution, should be specially noted.

They make Clause 5 of the Commonwealth Constitution Act substantially similar in scope and intention to article VI. sec.2 of the Constitution of the United States, supra. Under this clause, the Act, the Constitution, and laws of the Commonwealth made in pursuance of its powers, will be the supreme law of the land, binding on the Courts, Judges, and people of every State, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the laws of any State.

The latter words operate as a rescission of all State laws incompatible with the Act, with the Constitution, and with such laws as may be passed by the Parliament of the Commonwealth in the exercise of its Constitutional rights. Therefore, by this clause, coupled with sections 106 to 109, all the laws of a State, constitutional as well as ordinary, will be in effect repealed so far as they are repugnant to the supreme law. All the laws of any State, so far as not inconsistent with the supreme law, will remain in force until altered by the proper authority.

The pre-eminent significance of this direct action of the federal laws on the Courts, Judges, and people, is that it forms a distinctly national feature of the Constitution and differentiates it from the weakness and imperfection of a confederate system of government. The constitutional value of these words will be better appreciated by comparing this Constitution with the Articles of Confederation of the American States (1781), from which they are absent.

The British Parliament, being a sovereign legislature, may pass laws binding on its subjects all over the world; but, according to the principles of international law, it ought not to legislate for foreigners out of its dominions and beyond the jurisdiction of the Crown. (Lopez v. Burslem, 4 Moo. P.C., 300; the Zollverein, 1 Swab. Adm., 96.) The British Parliament has not, according to the principles of public law, any authority to legislate for foreign vessels on the high seas or for foreigners beyond the frontiers of the Empire. (Reg. v. Keyn, 2 Ex. D. 220.)

"But the laws of the Commonwealth being those of a subordinate and non-sovereign legislature would be examinable by the Courts, and if it appeared that they purported to legislate for matters outside the limits of the Commonwealth they would be pronounced ultra vires and null and void".

36 "The Laws of Any State."

The laws of the States will comprise the following classes:—

- (i.) Imperial Acts relating to the Constitution and government of the colonies when they become States:
- (ii.) Imperial Acts relating to matters of ordinary legislation expressly applicable to the colonies when they become States:
- (iii.) The Common law so far as applicable and not modified by colonial or State legislation:
- (iv.) Laws of the realm of England made applicable to some colonies by the general terms of the Act of 9 George IV. c. 83, and not since repealed or amended by colonial legislation:
- (v.) Acts relating to constitutional matters as well as to matters of ordinary legislation passed by the colonial or State legislatures in the exercise of Statutory authority conferred by Imperial law.

All these laws will remain in full force and effect until they become inconsistent with— (1) The Commonwealth of Australia Constitution Act, or (2) some Act amending the Constitution, or (3) laws to be made thereunder by the Parliament of the Commonwealth. By the Constitution of the colonies their legislatures have power to make laws in and for those colonies respectively in all cases whatsoever. When those [P.357] colonies become States their large powers will by degrees be considerably cut down, although they will be compensated for the loss of direct authority by their representation in the Federal Parliament. The jurisdiction of that Parliament will over-lap and in time will considerably contract the realm of State jurisdiction. As the federal legislation within the area of enumerated powers acquires activity and increases in volume, the State laws within that area will be gradually displaced by federal laws, but until they are so displaced through repugnancy they will retain their original vitality and be binding on the people of their respective States.

Should the British Parliament in violation of those principles attempt to render foreigners subject to its laws with reference to offences committed beyond its territorial limits, it would be incumbent on the Courts of the Empire to enforce those enactments, leaving it to the Imperial Government to settle the question of international law with the governments of the nations concerned.

But the laws of the Commonwealth being those of a subordinate and nonsovereign legislature would be examinable by the Courts, and if it appeared that they purported to legislate for matters outside the limits of the Commonwealth they would be pronounced ultra vires and null and void.

37. "The Laws of the Commonwealth."

This is a more suitable and comprehensive expression than the one which appears at the beginning of this clause, viz., "this Act and all laws made by the Parliament of the Commonwealth." The laws of the Commonwealth will consist of the following classes:—

□□(I.) The Commonwealth of Australia Constitution Act.
□□(II.) Alterations of the Constitution pursuant to the provisions of Chapter VIII.
□□(III.) Laws made by the Parliament of the Commonwealth under the Constitution.
It will be noticed that the second group of laws as above classified will not be laws made by the Parliament; they may be laws proposed either by one or both of the Federal Chambers, subject to certain conditions, and afterwards approved by the qualified electors of the Commonwealth and assented to by the Governor-General or by the Queen.

The renowned English jurist Sir William Blackstone famously stated, “No enactment of man can be considered law unless it conforms to the law of God.”

Deuteronomy 17:8 If there arise a matter too hard for thee in Judgment, between blood and blood, between plea and plea, and between stroke and stroke, being matters of controversy within thy gates: then shalt thou arise, and get thee up into the place which the Lord thy God shall choose;

17:9 And thou shalt come unto the priests the Levites, and unto the judge that shall be in those days, and enquire; and they shall show thee The Sentence of Judgment:

17:10 And thou shalt do according to The Sentence, which they of that place which the Lord shall choose shall show thee; and thou shalt observe to do according to all that they inform thee:

17:11 According to The Sentence of The Law which they shall teach thee, and according to the Judgment which they shall tell thee, thou shalt do: thou shalt not decline to do The Sentence which they shall show thee, and turn not away from it to the right hand, nor to the left.

17:12 And the man that will do presumptuously, and will not hearken unto the priest that standeth to minister there before the Lord thy God, or unto the judge, even that man shall die: and thus thou shalt put away the evil from Israel.

17:13 And all the people shall hear, and fear, and do no more presumptuously (in thinking they are a law unto themselves).

James 2:10 He who breaks the least of these Commandments and teaches others to do so is guilty of all.

The signed by E2 coronation oath (Exhibit 1) and the Bible she swore on at that Coronation (Exhibit 2) clearly orders judges and lawyers to obey the Laws of God.

These two factual pieces of evidence ought to be presented at the start, as defence in every single victimless case, or those in progress, where you have been wrongfully charged, and to proceed forth Lawfully.

To make this perfectly clear, the way is available with the two pieces of evidence to shift the cases to begin to use only God's Laws which demands a trial by jury, to proceed forth maintaining only God's Laws with judges roles clearly defined and explained in full detail in the Lawful Argument, the signed oath orders obedience to all subjects to maintain only the Laws of God.

Judges/lawyers have taken an oath (B.A.R.), thus ordered to comply to Exhibit 1, and Exhibit 2 (Bible), and it is as simple as that.

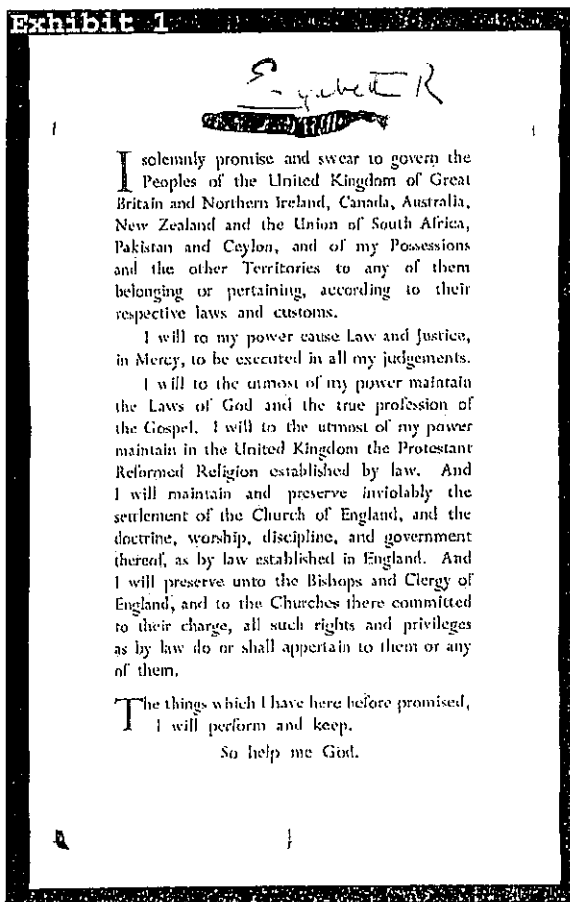

NB;- Also bearing in mind the legal maxim that no man can judge in his own cause, it should be crystal clear that no judge in the Commonwealth could lawfully rule on a challenge to the jurisdiction and sovereignty of the monarch. It is a question of their own authority, so they are obviously not impartial to the outcome. That is why the ONLY way the question of jurisdiction can lawfully and impartially be decided is by a jury. No judge under any circumstances can deny someone their right to request a jury trial.

No judge can lawfully rule in their own cause. That doesn't mean they won't try, it only means that when they do, they are committing a criminal act, and that their decision is immediate grounds for an appeal and for a citizen's arrest. The fact that the court and its corrupt judge tried to ignore this particular point is proof that they are well aware they have no lawful authority.

Remember

The renowned English jurist Sir William Blackstone famously stated,
"No enactment of man can be considered law unless it conforms to the law of God."

All of The Law references quoted are copied from the Sovereign's Bible (Exhibit 2) upon which Elizabeth Alexandra Mary Battenberg's Coronation Oath (Exhibit 1) was sworn, containing God's Law that she swore to maintain to the utmost of her power. It is a special large print and specially bound edition of the king James Authorised Version (1611) of the Holy Bible, that she placed her right hand upon, swore the Coronation Oath upon and then kissed, before she signed the Coronation Oath (Exhibit 1).

2.18 Mr Charles demonstrated the difficulties by reference to his own position:

...it is virtually impossible to relieve an individual who is born overseas of all of their potential residual rights in the country of their birth, or a prior country of occupation. I cite for the record the fact that because I grew up in the United States, where there is a different kind of social security system from what we have here, at age 13, when I took my first job, I applied for and gained a social security number, which meant that I paid taxes to the American government for potential social security benefits and continued to pay those for many years. That amount has accrued to my account.

... even though I am an Australian citizen I have an absolute right to that benefit. It would be unconscionable for you to say to me that I could no longer be a member of this parliament because I have a right to a social security benefit for which I worked in another country at another time.... [T]he larger part of that argument is that these inconsequential rights and entitlements certainly should not disqualify one from office.²⁶

2.19 Professor Blackshield supported the view that the words 'entitled to the rights or privileges' raise particular problems. As noted above, during the 1980s, the then Prime Minister, the Hon R.J.L. Hawke was threatened with a challenge under subsection 44(i) because he had been made an honorary citizen of Israel. Professor Blackshield commented that in fact there is an argument that the conferral of honorary citizenship had entitled the Hon R.J.L. Hawke to the rights and privileges of a citizen of the state of Israel and that he was in fact disqualified.²⁷ Significantly, no legal challenge was issued.

STOP THE HUMAN TRAFFICKING IN AUSTRALIA NOW

THIS ELECTION MUST BE STOPPED TO PREVENT GOVERNMENT TRADING YOU AND YOUR CHILDRENS BIRTH CERTIFICATE'S

1. Every Birth Certificate within 72 hours of a live-birth is being converted into a "Bond" with a calculated starting amount of money and then traded onto the world Stock Exchange Markets, without the knowledge nor consent of the person named on the Birth Certificate Bond. This is human trafficking conducted by people within the government structure.
2. All money borrowed by the government from the banking cartel operating within and without Australia is backed by this Birth Certificate/Bond trading trust fund pool.
3. On the 24th September 1999, all governments of the world, inclusive of Australia have been ordered to submit their government, people and resources into the central world government, the United Nations situated at Manhattan Island New York in the United States of America.
4. Without the knowledge of the United Nations Order on the 6th November 1999 the people of Australia did vote by referendum to decide the issue of republic or monarchy. The vote retained the Monarchy of the United Kingdom and as such The Crown of the United Kingdom.
5. Because The United Nation Orders was concealed from the people and the vote went contrary to the world government plan or program, all constitutions within Australia, State and Commonwealth were suspended on the same day, 6th November 1999.

6. Within Australia because of this concealed suspension of all Constitutions, all Supreme Courts inclusive of the High Court of Australia pay no judicial attention or notice to any purported breach of allegiance or breach of any constitutions, in effect the United Nation Order has taken control of all Constitutions within Australia, since the 6th November 1999, but, the illusion/fraud of having a constitution in position within Australia must be maintained ,which is the sole reason why another Commonwealth Election is about to be held.

7. In the Western Australia State on the 1st January 2004, because of the concealed United Nations Order both Crown and Monarchy were removed from law without either a State referendum or a Commonwealth referendum the overt act that did this was,

“The Acts Amendment Repeal Courts and Legal Practice Act”

8. In the State of Victoria on the 5th September 2000, because of the concealed United Nations Order, the oath of allegiance was removed from the Legal Practice Act 1996 by enactment of the act titled:

“Courts and Tribunals Legislation (Further Amendment) Act 2000”. (Act no 57- 2000).

9. Recently Julia Gillard stood down from the role and title of Prime Minister of Australia and was replaced within the Australian Labor Party by Kevin Rudd neither person disclosed to the people of Australia the fact that private prosecution charges that remain pending Grand Jury hearings within Victoria under section 354 Crimes Act 1958 Victoria are in position and remain concealed by politicians and judges to attempt to deceive the people of Australia into voting after the removal of both the Monarch and the Crown so that the human traffic in Birth Certificate Bonds can transfer into the United Nations undetected.

10. To enable this human traffic trade to continue and to conceal the suspension of all constitutions within Australia every Secret Society and all Trade Union principles have been bound to silence , in particular all Oath/obligations taken by members of the Secret Society of Freemasons, contain the words "To conceal and Never Reveal"

11. The former Governor General Michael Jeffery, a committed freemason and a decorated military man did swear in the current Governor General Quentin Bryce, a United Nations delegate, but, at all times both Governor Generals have concealed the United Nations September 1999 order from all Australians and have concealed the suspension of all constitutions and at the same time have concealed the removal of the statutory oath of allegiance and Crown of the United Kingdom from the people and electors of Australia so that the transfer/traffic of all of the land and people of Australia could transfer to the United Nations undetected, inclusive of all of monetary value accumulated in and by the Birth Certificate Bond Trading occurring and accruing through the Stock Exchanges through the world identified by personal CUSIP numbers to ascertain the monetary value of every individual traded, but, at all times this human trade is concealed.

12. The oaths purportedly taken and administered by Quentin Bryce to purportedly swear in Kevin Rudd and others, under the fraudulent guise of "Oath of Office" are not the statutory constitutional oath of allegiance as required under section 42 and Schedule of the suspended constitution of the Commonwealth, they are in fact "oaths of office" to enable the undetected transfer of all Australians and the land of Australia into and under the United Nations.

13. This United Nations program of gathering all nations is caused by Agenda 21 and as such all councils within Australian have submitted to and agree with Agenda 21, but, must conceal the real fact from all Australians.

14. The current purported referendum planned at the next election in relation to state councils being moved into Commonwealth Jurisdiction is to hide the fact that under the new United Nations regime all State Government will be abolished and Australia converted into 96 regions run by councils under the direct control of the Mayor.

15. The United Nations Agenda 21 does carry two distinct arms.

A. Abolitions of all Private Ownership.

B. Sustainable Development.

Under the second arm, what is concealed is that "Sustainable" means how many people do we, "The United Nations" intend to sustain in our world program. The current world population is around 7 billion people, most of which will be eliminated to enable "SUSTAINABILITY"

16. Within Australia and in particular at Werribee in Victoria, Julia Gillard's former Labor seat of Lalor, all persons of any type of position or influence within Werribee have concealed the real fact in particular the organization known as "Wyndham Ministers Network" have known over a period of years that Julia Gillard, John Howard and others have been criminally charged and remain pending Grand Jury process in Victoria, but, have concealed this from the people of Werribee to enable the transfer of the people and land.

17. The Human Trafficking via traded birth certificates bonds must be stopped now and the Commonwealth election must be stopped now so that the trial of this issue can begin.

18. COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA CONSTITUTION ACT -
SECT 80

Trial by jury

The trial on indictment of any offence against any law of the Commonwealth shall be by jury, and every such trial shall be held in the State where the offence was committed, and if the offence was not committed within any State the trial shall be held at such place or places as the Parliament prescribes.

8. JUDICIARY ACT 1903 (CTH) SECTION 80

Common law to govern

So far as the laws of the Commonwealth are not applicable or so far as their provisions are insufficient to carry them into effect, or to provide adequate remedies or punishment, the common law in Australia as modified by the Constitution and by the statute law in force in the State or Territory in which the Court in which the jurisdiction is exercised is held shall, so far as it is applicable and not inconsistent with the Constitution and the laws of the Commonwealth, govern all Courts exercising federal jurisdiction in the exercise of their jurisdiction in civil and criminal matters.

9. TREASON & MISPRISON OF TREASON:

Must be by Grand Jury Exclusively

a. Byrne V Armstrong (1899) 25 VLR 126 (The Indictment)

“That section contemplates an ex parte application founded upon an affidavit disclosing an indictable offence, and that a justice has refused to commit. The court has no discretion once those conditions are complied with. Section 386 shows that so far as Treason is concerned it must be prosecuted by indictment. The Attorney General could not start such a prosecution. It must be by grand jury.” (at 126)

b. Byrne V Armstrong (1899) 25 VLR 126 (The Finding)

“It is provided now that all the prosecutions shall be by presentment, but preserving the prerogative of the Crown through the Attorney General to proceed by information, except in case of ‘treason’ which has to be by indictment. Now indictment means by Grand Jury and therefore, inasmuch as the statute provides that Treason shall be tried by indictment only. That means that it must be by Grand Jury and no other means is provided for bringing it before a Grand Jury.” The finding of the Attorney General is equivalent to the finds of the Grand Jury, but in the case of Treason it must be the finding of the Grand Jury.” (at 132)

c. McArdle V Lorne Campbell (Sept 1986) (On Behalf of the Crown)

“Much has changed since 1940 and in particular the Office of Director of Public Prosecutions has been established by Act No 9848 of 1982. Under that Act the Director of Public Prosecutions is charged with preparing, instituting and conducting criminal proceedings on ‘behalf of the Crown.’ The Director is responsible to the Attorney General for the due performance of his functions and he is given the power to enter a nolle prosequi in criminal proceedings. But the Attorney-General’s power to enter a nolle prosequi is preserved in these circumstances, now that the responsibility for instituting criminal proceedings has been taken out of the hands of the Attorney-General, it may be that there is not the same need to have an alternative method of instituting proceedings. When the Office of Director of Public Prosecutions was established S354 of the Crimes Act was amended to substitute the words ‘the Director or Public Prosecutions’ for the words ‘a law officer.’ The section therefore now operates where the Director declines to present.”

(i) is under any acknowledgment of allegiance, obedience, or adherence to a foreign power, or is a subject or a citizen or entitled to the rights or privileges of a subject or a citizen of a foreign power, or

(ii) is attainted of treason, or has been convicted and is under sentence, or subject to be sentenced, for any offence punishable under the law of the Commonwealth or of a State by imprisonment for one year or longer, or

11. COMMONWEALTH CONSTITUTION ACT 1900 SECTION 80

Trial by jury [Section 80 Constitutional Guarantee]

"The trial on indictment of any offence against any law of the Commonwealth shall be by jury, and every such trial shall be held in the State where the offence was committed, and if the offence was not committed within any State the trial shall be held at such place or places as the Parliament prescribes."
